7:05 - BOSTON BELOVEDS BURY BRONX BASTIDS

You will be amazed at Bresciani's Boston Boys who will be with us. The new regime is thoroughly thrilled to have the likes of us spreading the word in Manhattan and surrounding suburbs. Granted - we are such a genteel gregarious group.

The Opening Day bus was a success - if you call driving to Boston and sitting watching a bunch of old timers in the rain and then being told to go home a lot of fun. But the Blohard Bonding was beautifully bodacious - all 12 hours of it.

It has been heard and seen in some select circles that there is a sense of traumatic trepidation about the lads lolling in the bullpen. They are there to walk or trot manly to the slab and throw strikes - get outs. They have been rather deliberate about this. Maybe a committee should be formed to discuss this problem and bring an end to this ridiculousness. ECKersley looks to be fit.

Why did he ever take out Willoughby?

But - on Manny - Go Nomar (maybe a little infield practice, eh No) - Shea - Trusty Trot - Jumping Jason - and the new guys Ortiz, Mueller and Millar - add Walker - and Doug waiting in the wings. May they propel us to the pennant with perspicacity and pitching. Listen up. Pedro - Derek, et al.

Great read - "The Teammates" by David Halberstam - Doerr, Pesky, Williams et finest. Get it while it is hot.
